School trip to GB

3^e2 - 3^e4 - 3^e5

Motorway in England

The journey

(31st March, 6th April)

The Ferry

During the journey, we slept at night and night and then we played on DS and we watched films and series and Musik and spoke to our friends.

Before the shuttle

At 10 p.m we went to the coach and we took it to Dover. There we took the ferry at 4:00 am and had your breakfast and did some Shopping, we arrived to France at 6:30 a.m. After that we went to the coach and we took it for about 5 hours at a service station and we ate KFC. We arrived at collège les sources at 3:30 p.m

In the shuttle

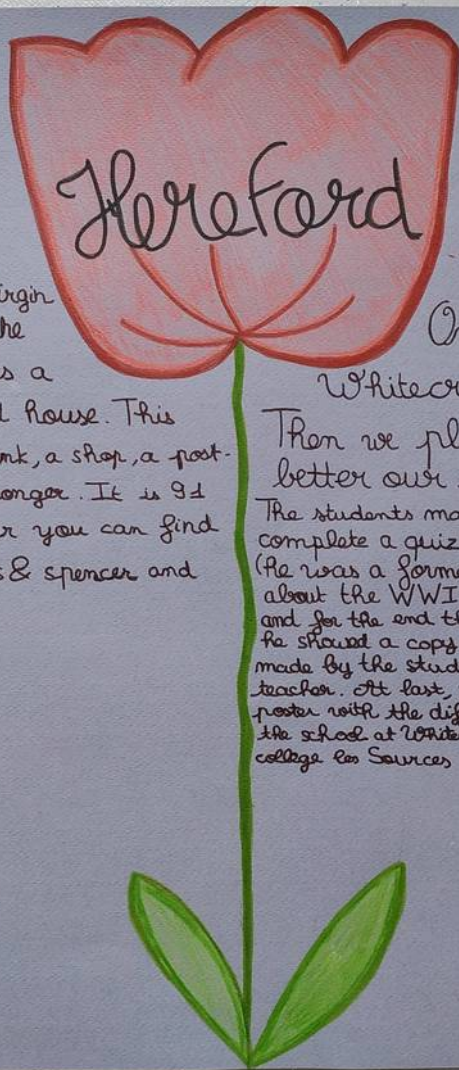

The journey started at 1.40 A.M. We were very impatient to use the Eurotunnel. We took the shuttle from Coquelles to Folkestone. It was very hot into the Shuttle. We crossed the English Channel.

Whitecross
Highschool

We visited Ste Mary the Virgin Cathedral and Ste Ethelbert the King Cathedral. In Hereford is a little town centre with an old house. This house used to be there is a bank, a shop, a post-office, a butcher's and a ironmonger. It is 91 years old. In the town center you can find a few shop like B&M, Marks & Spencer and Mc Donald's.

On Monday, we went to Whitecross to meet our penfriends. Then we played little games to know better our penfriends.

The students made us visit the school and we had to complete a quiz. Then Mrs Knapp the head teacher (he was a former history teacher) taught a lesson about the WWI and the conditions in the trenches and for the end the lesson he showed a copy of a trench made by the student and the teacher. At last, we made a poster with the differences between the school at Whitecross and at college Les Sources.

Food

Every morning we ate bacon with toast and scrambled eggs. We could drink coffee and juice too.

At lunch, on Monday, Tuesday and Friday we had picnic lunches - sandwich, chips, bottle of water and fruits or chocolate bar. On Wednesday we ate at the cafeteria and on Thursday we had a party with penfriends. The sandwiches weren't really nice but the breakfast was very very good.

Durrfield House

The boys' dorms were very little and doors were low. The girls' dorms were bigger. The house was old and big.

BLACK COUNTRY LIVING MUSEUM

In the museum there's a bus you can take to move around the village.

The Black Country Living Museum is a reconstitution of a village during the industrial revolution. This is the name given to the movement in which machines changed people's way of life.

A blacksmith.

The school:

In the afternoon, we had a lesson in the school in the 19th century. It was funny because we had to call the teacher "ma'am" and we learnt many things.

At school, it was forbidden to wear nail polish. Ami, Laura and Julie got punished.

The mine:

In the museum, there's a fake mine but it was exactly like in real life. The effects of shakes surprised us but it was rather fun. The animators explain us the life conditions of the miners at work. It was very interesting and adventurous.

During the visit, we saw animators and actors who were disguised who explained the IR.

The life conditions: Their living conditions were very difficult. Many people lived in very little houses, toilets were outside and people had no money, no food, no water so they drank beer! 🍺

We got our timetables for 2 days. We were divided in groups, we met our penfriends for the 1st time and they made us visit the school.

The next day, we had lessons in the morning. After, we had a little party, then we left... It was a very nice experience!

At the end of the day we went bowling!

When we went into our lessons... some of us were a little bit lost!

The pupils we met were very nice!

Differences between English and French education systems.

England	France
- they have to wear uniforms	- they don't wear uniforms
- Pupils have important exams at the age of 7, 11, 14 and 16 (GCSE and GSECS)	- students sit their exams at the age of 14 and 18 (Brevet and the Bac)

Have fun!

Bowling in Leominster:

We went bowling with our penfriends in Leominster. It was fun and cool. In our team Erna, won the game.

Freetime:

We had a lot of freetime for shopping with our penfriend. When we ate fast food and we went to shop. We had freetime in Leominster and in Cardiff. After the dinner, in Dunfield House, we had freetime & boys played football, we listened to music...

Cinema

We saw Dumbo in Cardiff. It was a nice movie. We ate popcorn.

Cardiff

We visited Tintern Abbey located in Wales. The Abbey is an old monument which is important for history. We had the opportunity to observe this beautiful monument. The Abbey has a big and smart we took many pictures and had fun but in the same time we respected the place.

We saw some signs and on them are two different languages written. The two languages are English and Welsh, the official languages in Wales.

We had two hours of free time in the city of Cardiff. We made groups and did some shopping. We were in different shops, for example: PRIMARK, Video games shop... Then, we went to Mc Donald's for dinner. After eating, we went to the cinema to watch « Dumbo ».

This museum shows different types of art, you can find different sections. There were sculptures, paintings, information about science, the earth. We had to choose two paintings and take notes about them. The painting that you can see above is about a woman who is wearing a blue dress.

We had hours of bus there were breaks.
